ed hordes, unskilled in the use of modern weapons, it is to be assumed they would lose no time in effecting a change in this state of things, especially as they must know that the influence of the Empire in international dealings, and perhaps the rule of the present dynasty, depend on the degree of the efficiency of the Chinese troups. Had the forces of Chipa been even as well armed, trained and disciplined as those of Japan, most likely nothing would have been heard of French operations in Tonquin. But there are many other reasons for believing the rulers of China are in ignorance of the impotence of their nation as a military or naval power. One of them is the lack of knowledge apparent among the editors of native papers. on such matters. If Chinese living side by side with foreigners, and in a British colony, where they have every opportunity of judging of the value of Western arts and sciences, still regard the braves who fled from Booninh, or endeavoured to crush the rebellion of country-folk in Wai-chau, as efficient soldiers, capable of contending with European troops. how are we to estimate the opinion held cluses at Peking? The opinions of the editors of the native papers echo those of the bulk of the Chinese residents in this Colony and in the Settlements at Shanghui. In most cases the native editor may be considered to be more enlightened than the majority of his countrymen around him. Yet we find the native papers calling out for war, and revelling in imaginary Chinese successes against the troops of France. It is of course to be regretted that the editors of the native newspapers do not exhibit a greater amount of intelligence and common-sense in their work. But the fault lies really with the Chinese communities. As we have pointed out on previous occasions in this journal, a newspaper must necessarily represent its constituency. So long as the Chinese will have victories for their troops and French defeats, so long will they be farnished by the native press. regardless of truth, honesty, or bac results. The Chinese exhibit just as much dislike to be told unpleasant truths as do political parties in England to hav-736 ing facts which are contrary to their views thrust down their throats. It is a pity there should be so much onesidedness in the world. The native press is no doubt a great power for good American, English, Indian or Austra- or evil. At the present time its benelian newspapers, are invited to call at fits appear to be nearly counterbalanced the "China Mait" Office, where over by its evils. But we fear its progress can only be proportionate to that of the communities it represents.

RECENT telegraphic news from London is to the effect that if the new Oriental Bank is started, the new Bank will place to the credit of depositors in the old bank 70 per cent. of their deposits. This decision has no doubt been arrived at after a careful survey of the position of the old Bank. Whether, of course, the liquidators of the old Bank will be able to pay this amount in the event of the new concern falling through is another question.

These two amounts, with $1.50 for a stamp, brought the loan up to $900; and defendant having failed to pay the interest on the firstmenth.

Defendant's case was that only $800 were borrowed, and that the real rate of interest was 4 per cent, per month, the proper rate not being put in the promissory note. The reason the note was given for $900 was that plaintiff retained $100 of the stated principal in payment of half of the I per cent. interest, the other half being secured to him by the monthly payment under the promissory note. did not see the money paid-$200 were hard labour. kept back from the principal in settlement ctained for the half interest, $1.50 was paid for the stamp, and there would have been paid $92 due as interest under the original agreement of 4 per cent. THE CHINESE MAIL. THIS paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Tere Dollars Forty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

-It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, -consider themselves justified | A Chip from Clinese History, or the Last in guaranteeing a large and ever-increasing circulation. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and Chinese and Sanskrit. the foreign community generally will find Hakka Songs. it to their interest to avail themselves of Notes and Queries-

The field open to a paper of this description-conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in toneis almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest, while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. Like English journals it contains Editorials, named!
